To express their thought she has but to express herself. Her Chopin revealed the Carreno of old. There was lightness, vivaeity and Soprano solo. Miss Esther Davis vealed the Carreno of old. There was the same lightness, vivacity and sensuous charm which has been so long associated with her playing. She played two of the preludes, the Cining nocture, the tarantelle and the barcarolle, and as encores the A-dat and G-flat cludes in the Opus 25. The Schumann eymphonic cludes were magnificently played. The Brahms rhapsody in B-minor was distinguished by the breadth and loftiness of hereonception. An unfamiliar composition by Semetana, 'Am Seegstade,' and MacDowell's 'Etude de Concert,' with which the programme of cin the Twelfth preliminary to meeting, sufficed for a dazzling display of virtuosity.''

Scats for the recital can be secured at the box office of the Shubert theater or at Carstensen & Anson Co., Temple of Music.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. H. G. McMillan is president: Miss Ethel Paul, secretary, and Mrs. J. M. Wilfley, treasurer, at their meeting held in the church parlors Tuesday, appointed the following committee for the distribution of tickets for the organ fund concert, to be held at the church Monday, January 24: Mrs. Walter Lyne, chairman; Mrs. W. H. Alexander and Mrs. H. J. Dinjany.

The officers of the aid society and The officers of the aid society and the members of the choir have the affair in charge. The choir, which consists of Miss Maud Thorn, organist; Mrr. Jack Taylor, soprano; Miss Edna Dwyer, contralto; Fred C. Graham, tenor, and J. W. Curtis, basso, has been working for the past month in preparing the programme. The choir will present Orlando Morgan's song cycle. "In Fairyland." The words of the cycle are selected from the works of various authors and include Shake speare, Sarah Williams, Thomas Hood, Keats Philip, Bourke Marsto, Andrew James Symington and Felicia Hemans. George E. Skelton will have charge of a select orchestra to assist the choir.

Grand Opera Costs Money

On New Year's night, when Managing Director Henry Russell, who with the backing of the Boston millionaires and society queens from the Back Bay blue stocking district, is really responsible for the building up of Bostonian grand opera organization, led his operatic forces from the new Boston operahouse to the special trains chartered for a five weeks' tour, he was followed by over 300 people, says the Indianapolis Star. These included his entire grand opera orchestra of nearly eighty, under four conductors, an imported corps deballet of nearly fifty from Milan, choral forces of 125 and principals amounting over fifty.

Railroad arrangements called for two special trains. These were made up of ten sixty foot baggage ears, the

Grand Opera Singer's Advice

Miss Blanche Hamilton Fox, the fa nous American contralto, who is pronounced a second Schumann-Heink, gives this advice to aspirants for grand opera honors: "Don't go to Europe," says Miss Fox. "unless you are chaperoned, know the rudiments of singing and the language of your adopted conn try. There are two things to observe First, have somebody who can act as buffer between you and the manifold annoyances, which will be yours it alone. Second, prepare well at home. Be sure of your voice and its placing, and acquire the rudiments of singing:

Salt Lake City, Jan. 7. Please tell me what population is re-nired for a representative in con-cess? DIXIE.

There is no such requirement as you evidently have in mind. Every state is entitled to at least one representative; thus, Urah has one with 276,000 population; and Nevada has one with 42,000. The ratio fixed in 1901 for representatives where the state has more than one, was 194,182, and the major fraction of this figure was accorded each a representative until the total membership agreed on at the house bad been reached.

EASE OF CONTROL

DURABILITY

CONTROL depends absolutely on the interior

If you have an interior mechanism that is AB-SOLUTELY and INSTANTLY RESPONSIVE -that is simple-then you have a player-piano that enables ease of control.

The interior construction of the Sohmer-Cecilian Player-Piano is of METAL, unaffected by heat or cold, moisture or dryness.

Sohmer-Cecilian Player-Pianos are the only player-pianos worthy of consideration, that are made in this satisfactory way. And remember, the Sohmer-Cecilian Player-Piano plays the entire keyboard of 88 notes, not merely 65, as do the ordinary Player-Pianos.

You'll buy a Sohmer-Cecilian Player-Piano before you are ENTIRERLY satisfied.

You might just as well take a short cut to satisfaction by buying one NOW.
